Investment Portfolio Structure. Up to 100% of the Funds' assets can be invested in debt securities issued or guaranteed by central or local governments, central banks, credit institutions or commercial companies of developing countries.

Income of the Fund consists of appreciation of debt securities, income from coupons and exchange rate fluctuations as well as appreciation of investment certificates. Income derived from the assets of the Fund is retained within the Fund for further investment.

Investment procedure. When making investment decisions, we analyze financial instruments in order to select the most appropriate financial instruments that in our opinion has the highest growth potential considering their risk and reward ratio.

Profitability Standard. We do not compare the Fund's performance indicators against any particular benchmark.

Currency of R Acc EUR (hedged) Share Class Investment Certificates: EUR (Euro).

Transactions with Derivatives. Derivative transactions are permitted on the account of the Fund for hedging against the risk of fluctuations in the market value of the Fund's assets or for the purpose of profit making.

More detailed information on transactions with derivatives is provided in Sections 1 and 3 of the Prospectus of the Fund.

Your income or loss is reflected in the increase or decrease in the value of share certificates. The value of the share certificate is calculated on each business day.

Transactions with the share certificates of the Fund. You can request us to repurchase your share certificates at any time and our responsibility is to satisfy such a request. Applications for selling share certificates of the Fund can be submitted to us or to the distributor of the Fund on any business day. You can also sell your share certificates on the secondary market. Transactions with share certificates of the Fund are carried out in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10 and 11 of the Prospectus of the Fund.

Preferred investment period. The Fund is more suitable for investors willing to invest for the time period of at least 3 years.

Risk and Reward Profile

Synthetic Indicator indicatively shows how volatile the profitability of the share certificate class is; the higher this indicator, the higher the potential reward; at the same time it involves a higher risk of suffering losses. The lowest category of the indicator does not imply that the investments in the Fund are not exposed to risk.

The Fund's share certificate class belongs to risk and reward category 3, because the historical annualized volatility of its yield has been below average (between 2% and 5%). The specified risk category may shift over time and its current value does not guarantee a similar risk and a reward ratio in the future.

Significant risks not included in determining the synthetic indicator are as follows:

Operational risk. A possibility that the value of the Fund's assets decreases due to an error of our employees or systems, incomplete internal processes or controls, which may result in reduction of your investment value

Liquidity Risk. A possibility that due to economic, market or other conditions the sale of financial instruments in the desired time is problematic. Low liquidity can have an adverse effect on the value of financial instruments that in turn may result in reduction of your investment value.

Counterparty Risk. A possibility that a counterparty defaults on its obligations towards the Fund that in turn may result in reduction of your investment value

Event risk. A possibility to suffer losses due to unforeseeable events, e.g., political developments, changes in taxes, nationalisation, sanctions, devaluation, etc., which may negatively affect your investment value.

Detailed information on risks is provided in Section 2 of the Prospectus of the Fund.
